

The Hungry Chameleon

This African horned chameleon can change colors quickly. It changes to match the color of insects. The insects do not see the chameleon and get caught by its sticky tongue. Today, this chameleon is hunting for insects. In each box, show how many it will catch. Be sure to make the insects in each box a different color. Then color the chameleon rainbow-style to show the same colors it used to "fool" the insects.

