

What's in it for me?

I've written why these things are important for me, and that's all true. However, the adult whose name appears on page 1 and I both know that there's a better chance of me learning the things I need to learn if there's some kind of incentive or reward. So, here's the plan we've set up:

- We've divided each goal into three or four parts, which we've listed below.
- I can earn a small prize or reward (such as going to fishing or bike riding with someone) when I finish each part. Or, I can get a checkmark for each part I finish and save up my checkmarks for a big prize. If the task is very hard for me, I'll get both the prize and the checkmark.
- I can trade in the checkmarks for the big prize only if I have checkmarks for getting all the pieces done. If I've checked the GOING FOR THE BIG PRIZE box below, that means that I think I can keep doing the work until it's done, without needing little prizes along the way.

Goal #
The parts:	Check when done:	Date:	Rating: 1 = Piece of Cake 2 = Pretty Easy 3 = Kinda Hard 4 = Very Tough
a.	<input type="checkbox"/>
b.	<input type="checkbox"/>
c.	<input type="checkbox"/>
d.	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/> GOING FOR THE BIG PRIZE, which is:

© J. Schultz. 1996